

Cognitive Rehab & Wellness

Curative Connections' Cognitive Rehab & Wellness programs support individuals with neurological impairments from a traumatic or non-traumatic brain injury, as well as those who may have a diagnosis of autism, down syndrome or cerebral palsy.

Classroom Teaching

This classroom-style learning program focuses on rebuilding essential cognitive skills, split into five sessions a day with breaks and lunch. Because there are different levels of intensity, attendance varies daily and even hourly.

Some of the competencies covered are:

- Memory and Cognitive Retraining
- Abstract Reasoning and Problem Solving
- Fine and Gross Motor Skills
- Environmental/Work Stimulation
- Functional Living Skills and Community Integration
- Executive Functioning Skills

Activity-Based Program

This program has the same underlying components as the Classroom Teaching program, but there is a larger focus on social recreation and creative expression. We also have a newly renovated sensory room for one-on-one time or small group instruction.

Program Placement

Program placement and scheduling is determined through a detailed assessment, including questions about physical, cognitive, and mental health needs. If the participant is a student over 18, staff may observe them at school. After the assessment, our team will suggest a schedule with the specific programming sessions and days that are best suited to help a member achieve their personal goals. This may be one hour of programming a week, or a more robust schedule depending on the individual.
